Playgrounds Commission balks at surprise audit

By ELLIS CUEVAS
John Ginn, vice-president of the Parks and Playgrounds Commission, appeared before the Bay Council Tuesday night questioning authorization of an audit of the commission's books.

Ginn said he appeared on behalf of the commission as President Jerry Seuzaneau was unavailable to attend.

Council President Jim Thriftley told Ginn, "The City had the firm of Moore and Powell authorized to audit the books of the City and I talked to the manager of the firm and requested that they also do the Parks and Playgrounds Commission's books as required by law."

Ginn said, "I don't think it is fair, we didn't know anything about the audit. Our bookkeeper was told to give the books to the firm of Moore and Powell, and they kept them for some time. We have never seen a report on the audit."

The Parks and Playgrounds Commission sets up an amount of $200 for their audit, according to Ginn, and the bill to them from Moore and Powell was for $750 and the commission felt it was an unauthorized expense.

Councilman Pete Benvenuti questioned if state law requires a certified public accountant (CPA) firm to do the audit. Board Attorney Joseph Gex said yes.

It was the general feeling of the Council that it should have notified the Parks and Playgrounds Commission about the audit.

A special request was also made by the Council that a copy of the audit be sent to the commission immediately.

In closing Ginn said, "You have sent us some guidelines and we are trying our best to cooperate with you."

President Thriftley said, "We are sorry if we hurt your feelings," with which the Council seemed in agreement.

Mayor Larry Bennett in his report recommended re-appointment of Mrs. George diBenedetto to the housing authority for five years, as recommended by the mayor.

Council authorized advertising for bids on re-roofing of the Valena C. Jones complex. Mayor Bennett said grant money has been received for that portion of the building used by the Senior Citizens.

The advertisement is to be for a complete roof and also an alternate bid for the senior citizens area.

The mayor said a roof over the Police department is a necessity in the complex as it is leaking very bad.

Mayor Bennett brought up before the Council the fact that four former City employees are now working for Gulf

Cadet project fog lifts, Board gives go-ahead

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
Fog surrounding the Bayou Cadet mooring basin project lifted Monday when confusion concerning a hold harmless clause, the latest project snag, ended with the announcement that the dredging phase of the project should begin this fall.

Charles Hill, spokesman for Burk and Associates of Gulfport, project engineers, said, "Hancock County Board of Supervisors authorization at its Monday meeting cancelling a previously adopted resolution, in effect, gives the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers permission to proceed on dredging Bayou Cadet this fall."

The confusion began when Board Attorney Walter Gex questioned interpretation of the words "hold harmless" in the project agreement between the Corps and Hancock County.

The hold harmless clause was believed to have the potential of making Hancock County liable for faults of the Corps or its contractors for any damages sustained by an individual in the area of the project, said Board Attorney Walter Gex.

And the Board was reluctant to enter into an agreement with the Corps

Self employed, Garcia has served in the U.S. Army and has worked for various businesses.

He attended Sierra College as a police science major.

Garcia claims a wide range of law enforcement experience, including patrol, juvenile delinquency, burglary, felony investigation, traffic enforcement, accident prevention and narcotics.

Garcia is credited with specialized training in courses prescribed by Peace Officers Standards of Training such as first aid, rescue and fire fighting.

Further subjects studied by Garcia include writing music, philosophy and law, says Garcia.

"If elected, I'll make myself available when needed and do the best possible job," Garcia said.

Repairs resume on Carroll Ave.

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Joe Brown Jr., of Joe Brown Engineers, Inc. was authorized Tuesday to further use the firm of W and S Construction on the Carroll Avenue cave-in.

Brown reported the W and S contractor fees up to date with the exception of some signal lights are $23,363.

Imposters bilking utility customers

Mississippi Power Company is cautioning customers to be aware of persons posing as utility representatives who seek to collect money for electric service repairs, inspections, reconnections, or similar reasons.

Under false pretenses, unknown persons have successfully taken money from unsuspecting residents, particularly the elderly.

Mississippi Power Company service representatives carry identification cards and travel in well-marked vehicles.

"If a person comes to your home on business regarding your electric service, ask for proper Mississippi Power Company identification - 'Beware of impostors,' a company spokesman warned.

A lengthy discussion was held during the regular Council meeting on the events which have taken place during the restoration of the sewer service in the 400 block of Carroll Avenue.

Brown said he relieved the contractor last Wednesday when he felt he would no longer be productive for the City.

"I felt the City has crews who could do the balance of the work left to be done," Brown commented.

Mayor Larry Bennett replied that "Charley Black, (City street superintendent) told him that he doesn't have the expertise or equipment necessary to finish the repairs."

The reply as an answer to Councilman Fred Wagner's question on whether the City could finish the job.

W and S Construction will prepare the street for resurfacing. Brown said he wouldn't guess as to how long it would take for the firm to do the job which requires a small dozer and operator, front-end matching, a laborer plus a mobilization charge.

There were a lot of references to lack of co-operation on the repair of the cave-in on Carroll Avenue between all parties involved.

Council asked Joe Brown and Mayor Bennett to submit to each Councilman a written report on their views as to what had transpired during the repair job of the Carroll Avenue cave-in.

Waveland endorses 201-208 as solution to pollution

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
Waveland's Board of Aldermen endorsed the regional wastewater treatment concept as the possible solution to pollution in the Mississippi Sound at its meeting Tuesday night.

The Board approved a resolution endorsing the regional treatment concept with the Waveland treatment plant serving as a regional facility.

The resolution endorses the Waveland plant as 'lead applicant' for the regional designation in Hancock County.

If accepted as lead applicant, elaborated Mayor John Longo, "the Waveland sewerage treatment facility will be designated as the most technologically advanced facility in the area."

Longo said 'lead applicant' status for Waveland will also mean the Board of Aldermen will have management and custodial control over the regional system, with related financial support awarded to the City in the form of grants.

"In general," added the mayor, "the position of lead applicant will allow Waveland to direct sewerage progress in the area."

The Board also endorsed the state act

ONE GIANT LEAP FOR TRUCK-The principals of gravity and balance overtook Alvin Alexander of the Point Lumber Co. in Pass Christian Monday as he steadfastly attempted to back down a hill on South Beach Boulevard adjacent to Marquet's Lounge in an attempt to unload lumber. The load of lumber on the bed of the truck shifted to the rear causing the cab to raise.

Alexander was last seen waiting for a nearby bulldozer to assist in returning the airborne truck to the ground. The location where Alexander was temporarily perched is the site for a new lounge to be constructed. (Staff photo-Leslie Williams)

Bay schools approve idle money investment

By RICH ADAMS
The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Board Monday authorized Superintendent J.D. McCullough to invest some $100,000 of surplus tax monies in a local city depository.

The board unanimously voted in favor of the investments at a special board meeting Monday, authorizing the superintendent to invest the money for three months in the city depository where it will draw 9.30 percent interest.

McCullough explained that during the first three months of the year, the school system had excessive money due to tax collection.

McCullough said the money must be invested prior to June 30, when the school system must close its books and prepare for summer payroll and expenditures.

McCullough added that enough money will have to be kept out of the investment funds for payroll and expenditures for June, July, and August.

The superintendent noted that Educational Finance Commission monies may be used for investments once the funds are channeled through designated accounts.

"I found out EFC monies may be deposited also," McCullough said at the meeting.

"We will have to deposit EFC monies into designated accounts, and then transfer the funds to the city depository," he explained.

McCullough recommended the board choose a local depository in which to invest the money rather than U.S. Treasury notes.

"My recommendation is that we travel local since we are hand-in-hand with the community," McCullough said.

"Maybe I am just looking at this like an old country boy, but we borrow money locally, so let's do this business locally," he added.

Board Member James Ginn agreed with the superintendent's recommendation.

LIFE BEFORE LIFE
"Ninety percent of the people who come to me definitely flash on images of a past life. I am convinced that the time has come to study rigorously the plausibility of reincarnation."

—Helen Wambach, author of LIFE BEFORE LIFE AND RELIVING PAST LIVES

Did you choose to be born? Did you choose your sex for this lifetime? Did you know your mother in a past lifetime? Is there life before birth?

Based on 750 actual case histories of life before birth experiences recalled under hypnosis, the startling answers to these questions are provided by psychologist Helen Wambach in LIFE BEFORE LIFE.

LIFE BEFORE LIFE was published as a Bantam Paperback Original on March hardcover, which will be published later this year as a paperback.

Despite the mounting evidence Wambach has gathered in favor of authentic life before birth experiences, she is continuing her research with an additional 10,000 subjects throughout the country.

All these case histories will be computer documented.

After her own personal experience of recalling a life before her present one, Helen Wambach was encouraged to undertake her research with hypnotized subjects.

Prior to beginning her work in this area, she practiced as a psychotherapist and clinical psychologist, and with Mor-mouth Medical Center Psychiatric Clinic, N. J., and Norfolk Mental Health Center, Va.

She now lives in California.

Echoes

After two years of extensive research in the Midwest and on the West Coast, Wambach discovered:

—81 percent of the subjects said they chose to be born.

—88 percent of the subjects felt anxiety at the prospect of another lifetime.

—87 percent of the subjects reported an awareness of knowing important people in their current life from past lives.

—89 percent of the subjects said they didn't become a part of their own fetus until after six months of gestation. The psychologist's work has been the subject of widespread national and local public attention.

Results from her clinical investigations into the plausibility of reincarnation are also published in Reliving Past Lives, a Harper and Row

All Responsible For Beneficiary Reports

People who receive social security checks have important responsibilities to report events which may affect their monthly benefits, a social security spokesperson said recently.

Failure to report certain events may mean that a needed check will not arrive on time. Or, failure could mean that person will be overpaid and will have to pay back money that should not have been received. The representative said that every person eligible for benefits receives a copy of the booklet Your social security rights and responsibilities which tells what should be reported. It would be a good idea for beneficiaries to review the booklet from time to time. It could prevent a mistake.

Everyone receiving retirement or survivor benefits should report:

- Change of mailing address.
- Earnings of more than $4,000 in 1978 if over 65; earnings of more than $3,240 if under 65.
- If the person goes outside the U.S.

People getting benefits because of disability should also report:

- A significant improvement in condition.
- A return to work.
- The person leaves the hospital in which he or she was a patient when application was made.
- The person applies for or there is a change in workers compensation benefits. More detailed information about reporting responsibilities can be obtained at any social security office. The address and telephone number of the nearest social security office can be found in the telephone directory under "Social Security Administration."

Navy's NSTL command upgraded to flag rank

The Chief of Naval Operations, in recognition of the importance of the Naval Oceanographic program to the Navy and other national objectives, has approved upgrading the position of commander, Naval Oceanography Command to rear admiral.

Until an additional flag officer is authorized, Captain J.R. McDonnell will continue to serve in this Admiral's position as the commander, Naval Oceanography Command headquartered at NSTL, Hancock County.

The Naval Oceanography Command is a worldwide organization employing some 2,000 Navy and civilian personnel.

It provides oceanographic, hydrographic, and meteorological services to the U.S. Fleet through regional centers, having broad responsibility covering the world's oceans.

Smaller units support local ship and aircraft operations. The largest single element of the command, the Naval Oceanographic Office (NAVOCEANO) employs over 1,000 persons at NSTL. NAVOCEANO conducts oceanographic surveys of all types and the data is used by the Defense Mapping Agency for preparation of charts and publications used by the Navy and by maritime interests.

The Naval Oceanography Command was established in October 1979, combining the staffs of the oceanographer of the Navy and the director, Naval Oceanography and Meteorology.

Its establishment was another step in consolidating the Navy's Oceanographic Program and centralizing these activities in so far as possible on the Gulf Coast.

Library Week flags honor deceased military heros

On Sunday and heralding the opening of Library Week at the City-County Library a large flag of the United States was hoisted in recognition of military service men of this area.

The flag flown Sunday formally draped the casket of John Everett Necaise and was raised by his son, Mike Necaise.

Throughout National Library Week, commemorative flags will be flown honoring the memory of all service men and using the flags of Lieutenant Commander Richard H. Thames, (USN); Colonel Nunez C. Pilet, (USA); and Lieutenant Joe E. Allen (USMC). "Although our flag pole is sadly in need of painting, and the rusty chain is disreputable, we hope our citizens will focus their attention on these handsome flags," said Joe Pilet, who heads the Gulf Coast Chapter DAR's committee on patriotism and citizenship and for which efforts she recently received national recognition for excellency in that field.

H. "Bully" Zengarling

Formally Announces

For Supervisor,

District 4

I have been employed in Hancock County continuously with the exception of my period of service in the armed forces. Presently I am self-employed with timber and cattle interests.

I am an honorably discharged veteran of World War II having served over four years, twenty months of this period being spent overseas. I participated in four major battles in Europe, Normandy, Northern France, Rhineland and Central Europe. I am a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Farm Bureau, and have been active in civic and community endeavors.

When elected again as your Supervisor, I feel I could serve Hancock County well in view of my previous experience as Supervisor of District Four. I am aware of our needs and want to help make Hancock County a better place to live.

It is my intention to contact each of you personally in the forthcoming weeks concerning my candidacy.

You have my assurance that when elected, I will do all I can to help Hancock County move forward, and in addition, will see to it that the taxpayer will get the most for their tax dollars. My record speaks for itself.

Thank you

H. "Bully" Zengarling

Candidate for Supervisor, District 4
Hancock County, Mississippi
(Pd. pol. Adv.)

To the people of Hancock County, I wish to take this means of announcing my candidacy for the Office of Supervisor, District 4 in the forthcoming Democratic primary to be held August 7, 1979.

I served as Supervisor of District Four, 1972 through 1976, but did not seek re-election due to family interest. I now seek the office because I am in the position to serve as a full time supervisor.

I feel I am well known throughout the county, but to those who do not know me, here is a brief history of my personal background.

I am a native of Hancock County and was reared in the Bayou La Croix Community. I was displaced by NASA in the buffer area and have been living in Bay St. Louis for the past fourteen years at 306 Citizen Street.

I am a son of the late Joseph A. Zengarling and Mary McArthur. I am married to the former Mittie Agnes Maskew and we have been blessed with five children, Herbert Jr., Joyce (Mrs. Michael) Lee, Terri Kay, deceased, Alice (Mrs. Clement) Ladner and Lisa (Mrs. Jeff) Hinson. We have three beautiful granddaughters, Jennifer and Laura Lee and Dawn Zengarling.

I received my education in the public schools of Hancock County and attended a Veterans training school for four years at Kith and Picaune, Mississippi.

Register now, before you forget!

Through the rest of this year there will be many important state and county positions to be filled by the voters.

We will elect a governor, lieutenant governor, and other state officials, as well as our local state senator and representative, sheriff, supervisors, court clerk, judges and several others.

When election day turns up, many will not be able to vote for their favorites because they are not registered.

Many of our young adults have the opportunity to vote for the first time this year. Those who have reached 18 on or before November 6, 1979, are eligible if they register 30 days before the elections.

The last re-registration in Hancock County was after the redistricting in 1970, and those who have registered since then will be eligible to vote in the elections.

If you have moved into another district and want to vote for supervisor, justice court judge and constable in the district in which you are now living, you will have to file a change of address with the registrar of voters.

A person must be a resident of the county for 30 days before he can register, whether moving in from another county or another state.

Also, the person must register 30 days before the election in order to vote.

In order to be a qualified voter in county and state elections, a person must register at the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis.

The office of Circuit clerk is responsible for voter registrations and is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

No elections are slated in the municipalities of Waveland or Bay St. Louis this year, but residents of those areas must also register at their respective city hall's in order to vote in city elections.

The thing which happens to many of us is we keep putting off registration because there still is time left and before we know it, the deadline passes us by.

The important recommendation we can make to you, of course, is this - while it is fresh on your memory get down to the courthouse and register.

A lot of folks say one vote doesn't count, but we know from recent experience that is not true.

In several elections in recent years here, only one vote made the difference.

Every vote is important!

We are blessed, but!

The number of public recreation areas in Hancock County far exceeds the number of such facilities in the majority of Counties of Mississippi.

Most local people and visitors appreciate these recreation areas by taking care of them as leaving them in good condition for their neighbors to enjoy as well.

On the other hand, especially at McLeod Park on the Jourdan River, vandals have been at work for the past two weekends.

We hope the culprits are caught soon. Many dollars have been spent on the construction of facilities at McLeod Park, paid for with tax dollars for the use of everyone.

It staggers the imagination to realize that there are people around today of such low mentality they can justify in their own minds the destruction of a public park.

We hope someone will read this editorial to them, because we are sure they must be so base they are unable to comprehend the English language.

Hancock County needs all of the recreational facilities they have and then some. We cannot afford to allow the wanton destruction of these parks which belong to us all.

We hope the long arm of the law reaches out and rounds up those responsible.

John C. Stennis

Once again a constitutional amendment is being considered which would change our method of electing the President and Vice President. Since the constitutional convention in 1787, there have been many attempts to replace the fine system we now have. No plan has been as yet seriously proposed which would be an improvement over the present system, and the constitutional amendment now being proposed is definitely an unattractive and unacceptable alternative.

The so-called "popular" election of the President proposal would completely abolish the Electoral College and provide that the President be elected by direct popular vote. The Electoral College resulted from one of the great compromises in the Constitutional Convention between the large states and the small states. It was such compromises that made the Constitution a great, fundamental, and basic law that has endured through changing times and through tremendous constitutional crises and other stresses and strains our country has gone through.

The main objection to the new proposal is that small states would give up much of their voting strength and would gain nothing in return. A recent study by the Library of Congress shows that 31 states, including Mississippi, would have a lesser influence under the direct popular election system. Under the Electoral College system, each state has one vote for each of its members of the House of Representatives, and a vote for each of its two Senators regardless of the population of the state.

If the proposed direct election amendment were adopted, a candidate could carry two or three large states by a very large margin and lose all of the remaining states by a very small margin and still be elected. It would mean the President and Vice President could be elected with purely regional interests and backgrounds.

Another objection is that no majority would be required under the pending proposal. Under it we would change from the majority rule of the Electoral College to a system where a candidate could be elected with a plurality of 40 percent. Such a concept is basically unsound and, in time could very well mean the proliferation of splinter political parties. This would endanger the traditional two-party system which I believe is absolutely indispensable to our system of government.

The Electoral College system has stood the test of time and the challenge of hundreds of proposals for change. The proposal now under consideration would do great harm to our federal system. Already, the powers of the individual states have been greatly reduced. I will continue to strongly oppose this amendment which would reduce our strength of Mississippians in the process of electing the President and Vice President.

Citizen takes issue with Pray marker

March 29, 1979

Open Letter to
Board of Supervisors,
Hancock County,
Dear Me! and a few other mild expletives!

I know it isn't proper to chide an august body of public servants, but may I ask: Why?

Why, Oh Why erect an historical marker to Honorable Publius Rufus Rufus Pray?

And on the grounds of the Hancock County Courthouse lawn if my information is correct.

Level with me. I bet not a single one of you gentlemen ever heard of Gen. Pray. Few people have.

The gentleman was from Maine, and in a curious book called History of the County of Westchester, New York, (Vol. 1, p. 67), there is an account of a monument in the cemetery of the Dutch Reformed Church at Peckskill to the memory of Lieut. George McChalm, with an inscription by P.R.R. Pray. So, what's that got to do with Hancock County?

True, the gentleman came South. He planned to settle in New Orleans having "a partiality for the civil law," according to our recognized Mississippi historian, J.F.H. Claiborne.

However, because of Pray's poor health he was advised to establish himself at Pearlington.

Pearlington citizens of today do not remember any mention of him. I know. I asked several prominent families.

If he deserves a place in Hancock County History why not consider placing his marker in Pearlington?

What are we aiming for, a courthouse lawn that is well kept - or one with the appearance of a cemetery?

Pilgrim praises tour hospitality

March 28, 1979

Dear Mrs. Pilet,

If I were making a rosary of happy days, I would choose today to be a large center bead.

It would be a faceted prism, reflecting the garden, your friends, the Pilgrims, your beautiful home, the delicious lunch, and you - who made it come together.

Thank you for inviting me; I enjoyed every minute and everything, "especially Mrs. Stamm's paintings."

County schools seek Special Ed director

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

A position of Special Education Coordinator has been created by the Hancock County School Board.

The position was created for the county school district Monday night following Board approval.

Board Member Manuel Cuevas voted against the measure saying, "Don't get me wrong, I'm not against hiring a coordinator if we can afford one, but we don't know yet whether we can afford one."

"I don't see how I can vote in the blind not knowing how much the coordinator's salary will be. I would need to first know the salary and then check the budget against the salary to see if we could afford a coordinator," continued Cuevas.

Superintendent Terrell Randolph and Haskins both advised Cuevas a definite salary amount for such a position is difficult to determine due to variables such as the degree an applicant is qualified, etc.

The Special Education Coordinator will manage the special education program for the Hancock County School District. The job will demand filing enormous amounts of paperwork to comply with state and federal laws, said Haskins.

Haskins defines special education as educating students with physical or mental handicaps.

When Hancock North Central Principal Thad Haskins was asked by Cuevas how needed is the position, Haskins replied, "If we would have employed a coordinator last month it would have been too late."

"I think more law suits will come from these special education laws than the total of all law suits brought in the state of Mississippi," predicted Haskins.

"We need someone to supervise this area for us," maintained the principal.

In other action, the Board approved the employment of several teachers for the 1979-80 school term at Charles B. Murphy Elementary, Gulfview Elementary, Hancock North Central and Hancock North Central Elementary.

Burglary suspect jailed

By RICH ADAMS

The Hancock County Sheriff's Department is holding a Gulfport man in the Hancock County Jail without bond and seeking another suspect in connection with an attempted burglary of a Diamondhead home, according to Chief Deputy Ronnie Peterson.

Peterson reported he and Deputies A.J. Cuevas and Willie Lee arrested Larry Wilborn, 2212 32nd Ave., Gulfport, approximately 10 p.m. Monday. Peterson was called by a member of Shultz Security at Diamondhead, who reported two men were apparently burglarizing the home of Hilliard Myre, 5610 Diamondhead East.

When the deputies arrived at the scene, they found Wilborn in the custody of a Shultz agent at the home and a car registered to Wilborn's alleged accomplice parked outside the front door.

Two color television sets were in the car and many items had been moved just inside a door at the Myre house.

Peterson said another homeowner on Diamondhead East reported the two men had approached his home and knocked, apparently to see if anyone was home.

The homeowner told Peterson the pair left when he answered the door, after asking for a person he had not heard of.

"We expect to make another arrest in Biloxi soon," Peterson said.

Wilborn is charged with burglary of a dwelling and possession of burglary tools.

establishing an interim Gulf Coast Regional Wastewater Management Commission to plan and design wastewater treatment facilities for Hancock, Harrison, and Jackson Counties and the nine incorporated municipalities in those counties.

Mayor Longo was chosen by the Board to represent Waveland on the commission.

"We want to join in the fight against pollution, but we don't want to lose local control of our plant," explained Longo.

The mayor said he would sanction a permanent wastewater commission of an advisory nature which would provide a unified direction for the three counties to solve the pollution problem.

However, he opposes giving a proposed permanent regional commission the authority to control any funds.

The mayor reiterated he would favor a proposed permanent commission with strictly advisory powers.

The Clean Water Act of 1977, often referred to as the 201-208 Study, requires regional sewerage treatment facilities be built by 1983 to dispose of wastewater along the Gulf Coast.

The interim regional commission will attempt to design a plan to bring polluted waters along the Coast up to federal water quality standards.

In other business, Alderman Barbara Rappold moved to waive $175 sewer connection fee for Hamilton General. Alderman Herman Yarbrough seconded the motion, and unanimous approval from the board followed.

In an effort to receive a greater percentage of gasoline tax funds, the Board approved a resolution joining the Mississippi Municipal Association, other municipalities and certain private individuals in a class action suit requesting "fairer" distribution of gasoline taxes.

State Health Agency sets election Friday

The Southern Subarea Advisory Council Election of the Mississippi Health Systems Agency, Inc. (MHS) is scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday in Malone Hall at the Gulf Coast Junior College, Perkinston.

MHS is the fully-designated health systems agency for Mississippi under the National Health Planning and Resources Development Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-641).

This law requires each Subarea Advisory Council (SAC) to have a balanced representation of sex, age, racial, and economic classification that reflects the population of the area.

Furthermore, representatives are selected by the classifications of health care "providers" and "consumers", with a majority of consumers, and the others qualified in various specified health care categories - that is, a specified number of physicians, dentists, nurses, optometrists, hospital and nursing home administrators, other health related professions, etc.

SAC members serve staggered three-year terms so that each year at least one-third of the council membership would be open to election (or re-election in some cases).

Additionally, there are some members whose positions have been vacated and must be replaced through the annual elections.

Southern Subarea Advisory Council represent the populations of Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Pearl River, Stone, George, Marion, Lamar, Forrest, Perry, Greene, Jeff Davis, Covington, Jones, and Wayne counties.

Each county is guaranteed at least one representative in composition of SAC.

It is with the personal conviction that proper health care begins within the individual and that the individual has to act accordingly that the impact of Southern SAC participation will be felt in dollars saved, improved health care, and prolonged lives of the citizens of this state. Show your concern. Attend Southern SAC Election. Participate in the nomination and election of the following slots:

More information concerning the positions which are open in the Southern SAC and the election process may be obtained through the main office of MHS-510 George Street, Suite 400; Jackson, (phone 948-9005) or at the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District office, 1020 32nd Avenue, Gulfport, (phone 863-2311).

Coast Waste, and whether the men are due a paid vacation from the City as they had been longtime city employees in the sanitation department.

There was some discussion about the vacation pay, as to whether the former employees should be paid or not.

A motion was made by Councilman Pete Benvenuti to research the matter and it was seconded by Councilman James Thrifflay. The motion died with the other three Council members voting against the study.

A motion was made to pay the former employees two weeks vacation pay with Councilmen Harry Farve, Wilmer Seymour and Fred Wagner voting yes and Councilmen Benvenuti and Thrifflay voting no.

In the discussion, Benvenuti said the reason he wanted a study made on the amount of vacation owed each person was to pay them for only what they are entitled to and Thrifflay said he had the same feelings.

Ms. Debbie Anselmo of the Therapy Swimming Program, Inc., requested $350 for help to pay for a retarded children's swimming program this summer.

Ms. Anselmo told the Council her organization is non-profit and to help the handicapped children. Council, after checking with Kelly McQueen, finance officer, granted the request. McQueen said the money could come from interest earned by the City.

Mrs. Ruth Summers, owner of Ruth's Hair Styling, appeared before the Council seeking relief from gas leaks in front of her business.

Ms. Summers said the gas leaks affect her business because the fumes come in when her door is open.

Bill Johnson, city utility superintendent, said a cure for the problem would be the replacement of old gas line in the entire block.

Mayor Bennett reported it would take about 1,000 to 1,200 feet of new pipe. Council were in agreement something should be done. The mayor is to give a recommendation at the Council's next meeting.

Ronnie Murray of the Gulf Regional Planning Commission reported on the 1978 Small Cities Program saying the next step is to get the legal description of property needed for right-of-way of the sewer lines and that should be done in a couple of days.

Council also gave Murray the authority to research and make recommendation on building permit procedures.

The Street numbering of US-90 was discussed and Murray is to give the Council recommendations from Gulf Regional.

In reference to the 1978 Small Cities Project, Murray reported the government has made the grants and that the Congressmen would be notifying the recipients very soon.

Discussion of the purchase of three new school buses for the School System was tabled until a recessed meeting scheduled in April 12.

Some of the Councilmen commented on the fact that the System had just recently purchased three new buses and Councilman Seymour said yes; but, the school system had 900 more students to ride the bus this school year.

with the new law.

In other business, Council approved the recent request by the Chamber of Commerce for aid in the printing of a new brochure.

Dr. Michael Smith of Advanced Developments, Inc. was requested by the Council to give them a proposal and cost estimates on the 100 block of Main Street as a Federal Aide Urban Assistance project.

Mayor Bennett requested the Council look into the project several weeks ago. Ronnie Murray reported the City had $79,392 available in Federal funds and the City would have to match 25 per cent on the street improvement.

The Council approved the purchase of a motor scooter for the Utility Department.

The Council recessed the lengthy meeting until April 12 at 4:45 p.m.

mentation to invest locally, adding short-term loans would be easily obtained if local depositories were used.

"If we need a short-term loan for a bus, the treasury department will not be willing to finance the loan, local depositories will," Ginn said.

Ginn, a Bay St. Louis banker, suggested the school keep at least one or two months operating funds on hand and invest the remainder.

Ginn moved to adopt a resolution allowing McCullough to "invest funds in excess of sums required for payment of current obligations and expenses," which McCullough said would be "$100,000 or more."

The motion was seconded by Betty Diboll, and approved by the board.

In other action Monday, the board discussed obtaining Bibles for the fifth and sixth grade through Gideon International.

The board received a letter from the Gideons, offering Bibles to the fifth and sixth graders with permission from those students' parents.

Board Attorney Lucien Gex pointed out that distribution of Bibles in public schools is illegal, according to a Supreme Court ruling which orders separation of church and state.

Gex explained that many schools somehow "get around" the law and took advantage of the Bible offer, but added if the board was taken to court after receiving the books, federal aid under Title I could be taken away.

"The worst which could happen would be a loss of federal funds," Gex explained.

Ginn suggested McCullough call other superintendents of Gulf Coast schools and find out how to avoid a conflict with the law.

"This program may be the only way many of these students will get the Word," Ginn said.

After considerable discussion, McCullough said he will contact other schools to find the reaction of the community to the Bible offer, and also what steps are taken to legally obtain the books.

Following a 20 minute executive session, in which Board President Virginia Gex said no action was taken, the board adjourned until its regular meeting on April 9.

Hancock County Board of Supervisors
Bay St. Louis, MS 39520

Gentlemen:

I have reviewed the internal accounting control procedures including the accounting records and supporting documents of the Purchase Clerk of Hancock County, MS, that I considered relevant to the criteria established by House Bill 975, laws of 1974, and House Bill 670, laws of 1975, of the Mississippi legislature. My review of the tests of the compliance with such procedures during the period of October 1, 1977, through September 30, 1978.

During the course of my audit it came to my attention that sometimes purchases were made without proper documentation of a purchase order, purchase requisition, and the corresponding purchase order docket and purchase requisition docket. Because of these procedures, it is my opinion that the accounting procedures are not in full compliance with the provisions of House Bill 975, laws of 1974, and House Bill 670, laws of 1975.

Respectfully,
Wynn Alexander
Certified Public Accountant

Egg throw competitors before, after: egg wins each time

LIBRARY CELEBRATION: In an effort to demonstrate the Library has something for everyone, not just "book worms," Friends of the Library scheduled competition Saturday in chess, hula-hoop, standing jump, balloon blowing, sack races and egg throwing. City officials were featured in the celebration, with Bay St. Louis Councilman Harry Farve and Waveland Alderman Louis Smolensky engaging in horseshoes in addition to Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennet and Waveland Mayor John Longo, right. Friends of the Library members also operated concession stands and acted as contest judges. "The Library is filled with success stories" is the theme of national Library Week, 1979. Happenings

By FRED HORN

BAY ST. LOUIS

All Seniors who would like to participate in the game session of our Social Hour are cordially invited to attend Monday at 1:30 p.m. at our Center on Old Spanish Trail.

As usual, the local merchants have been very generous with their contributions.

There will also be a terrific door-prize and delicious refreshments.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

The nice spring day made it perfect for the regular Birthday Party Monday, March 26.

All present extended Birthday Greetings to Sarah Williams, Olga Adams, Ethel Dormain, Bernice Scafield, Jennie Taconi, Gladys Discon, Louis Portier and Allie Mae Scott.

Allie Mae won the special birthday prize of two chicken dinners donated by Buddy Murro, manager of Danny's Fried Chicken.

Olga Adams won the door-prize of dinner for two from Scafield's Wheel Inn on US-90, Bay St. Louis.

Entertaining for the affair was that versatile group of musicians, "The Seniors Too Orchestra" under the capable direction of Dick Austin, joined by Mark Ritter on alto and tenor sax, Randall McDonnell on piano, Loreta Ritter on bass guitar, Mercedes Mobley on cocktail drums, and C. F. Galbott on drums.

This group is one of the favorites of our Seniors. They not only provide fine visual and audio entertainment, but all of those nostalgic tunes from the 20's, 30's and 40's bring back some fond memories to all. And then there is the dancing.

The group is made up of all RSVP Volunteers from Gulfport and all their entertaining is done without remuneration.

Believe me, they are the favorites of the Gulf Coast and other points, so they really put in a lot of volunteer hours. Thanks again, Dick Austin and all the gang.

You could tell it is Spring, because this group of March celebrants were really a lively bunch, and set a go-getting pace.

We would like to thank all volunteers and participating merchants whose help made this another successful event.

Birthday cakes were donated by Peoples Federal Savings & Loan Association of Bay St. Louis.

HUMANITIES

The National Council on Aging and The National Endowment For The Humanities, under the sponsorship of the Mississippi Planning and Development District, presented their fifth

VIET ERA VETS

The Veterans Administration employs some 10,000 Vietnam Era veterans more than any other federal agency.

program, under the coordination of Alberta Butler, "Americans And the Lands."

Highlighting the class was an exhibit of memorabilia of 1914 to 1945, World Wars I and II at the City-County Library Friday, March 23.

One display of medals was presented by Mrs. Cora Coe of Waveland, the widow of PFC James Coe, the only black man from Hancock County killed in action in the European Theatre of Operations, according to records.

Guest narrator for the program was class member Ada Pollard.

Completing the class and receiving Certificates of Merit were Edith Chevis, Lucile Bradt, Ada Pollard, Amanda Sylvester, Juliette Cook, Authalia Hall, Genevieve Daniels, Rometta Roberts, Roberta James, Mae Beyer, Nina Garner, Brunetta Daniels, Mary Ellen Simms, Emma VanPesk, and Jeanne Williams.

Ms. Alberta Butler extends her heartfelt thanks to the Sea Bee Division of Gulfport, Keesler Air Force Base of Biloxi, Major Harry Tartt of the Community Action Agency, Gulfport, and all members of the class for mementos they brought for the display.

HERE & THERE

Jose Urbana, who has been very ill for the past 6 months, wishes to use this means of thanking all his friends and neighbors for the many cards, phone calls, and visits, he has received.

A special thank-you, for the members of the Ladies Sodality of St. Clare Church for their special prayers for his recovery.

Jose and his wife Mary reside in Waveland and have been active in our program since it was initiated in 1972. They are charter members of American Association of Retired Persons, Hancock County Chapter No. 1114.

Laura and Ulman Mauffrey, two of our very active members, were paid a surprise visit by Laura's brother.

HIGH-LEVEL HUG - Mrs. Frances Comperta of Bay St. Louis embraces Mississippi Gov. Cliff Finch while Rev. Charles Clark of Waveland, left, and State Rep. J. P. Comperta of Hancock County are caught up in the exuberance of the moment during a recent visit to the State in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herron from Vancouver, British Columbia.

They are returning home after spending the winter months in Florida.

Laura informed me that Charles and herself will be 83 years old this coming fall, there being just three weeks differences between their ages.

I don't know about Charles, but believe me Laura sure doesn't look or act like someone that is in an Octogenarian.

COMING EVENTS

Gov. Cliff Finch has declared the month of April as Volunteer Month.

Several of our RSVP members have been nominated to compete in state wide volunteer competition April 28 in Jackson. Good Luck Gant!

Good Friday services will be offered at the Senior Citizens Center, Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis, Friday, April 13 at 11 a.m.

WAVELAND

The Senior Citizens of

Waveland Association, Inc., will hold its regular business meeting Monday, April 9 at the Civic Center on Coleman Avenue at 10 a.m.

President Pere Cabibi would like to have all the members attend this meeting. There will be a guest speaker, a door-prize and refreshments.

CLOSING

I have received several phone calls from worried Seniors on Social Security, who heard a rumor, read an item in the paper, and heard a broadcast on TV that their checks were not going to be honored.

I informed everyone that I had no "inside" information, but that I knew they would be alright by the time they were due, because I still have faith in the Greatest Country in the world.

In these days of perilous times, not only have I faith, but many other lands and people have faith in her stability, hope in her future, and trust in her charity.

I hope all of her sons will join the rest of the World's Peoples in the sunshine of her life and not sit under the clouds of her doom that some are trying to draw over to put her.

She has, she is and she shall always be "The Great Lady," Yes, America is still the God-loving, God-fearing hope of the Universe.

Her torch still burns brightly.

Furman sisters take tourney win

Leslie and Kim Furman, sisters who make up the girls doubles team from Our Lady's Academy in Bay St. Louis, won first place in the Mississippi Coast Invitational Tennis Tournament in Gulfport Saturday.

The Wild brothers, Pat and Tom of St. Stanislaus, competed in the finals in boys doubles but were defeated by a strong Ocean Springs brother team of Steve and Tom Carter.

The Furman sisters drew a bye in their initial match, and then defeated Ginger McKay and Lisa Alexander of Long Beach to move up in the competition.

The two OLA students then defeated Lynette Ellis and Dana Devrow of Biloxi to move into the finals, where they defeated Wanda Beach and Kathy Steub, 6-2, 6-4.

Bay High's girls' doubles team of Tricia diBenedetto and Ann Johns were defeated in their initial game against the Ellis-Devrow pair of Biloxi.

Pass Christian's mixed doubles pair of Pat Barnes and Robin Roberts were victorious over Biloxi's Glenn Weachter and Lisa Devrow in the finals, 6-1, 6-4.

Bay High duo Robby Boyd and Anne McCarthy were stopped short in the opening round by Vince Pachel and Angela LeBlanc of Stone County.

Rowe Crowder and Linne Cabell of SSC-OLA defeated Coast Episcopal's Doug

GCRL tagging reds, speckles for study

A team of marine biologists from the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, with the assistance of the commercial fishing vessel "Sue Ann" recently began tagging red drum commonly known as red fish off the Mississippi Coast.

These fish are tagged with either yellow or green anchor tags which are inserted on the lower rear side of the stomach of the fish.

Dr. Thomas McIlwain, assistant director of fisheries research and management at the Lab, said he hopes to be able, with the assistance of the sport and commercial fishing industry, to tag several thousand fish during 1979.

Ultimately, data and information to be obtained through tag studies will be used to plan for conservation and management of the fishery stocks," said McIlwain.

Gulf Coast Research personnel began working several months ago on the first year of a planned three-year investigation of the biology of two important commercial and sport fish, the red fish and speckled trout, in the Mississippi Sound and adjacent waters.

An integral part of this study is the tagging program. Both red drum and speckled trout will be tagged and released.

Tag return data will allow the researchers to estimate the population of these two species, determine movements, growth rates, size and age composition of the fish stocks, as well as determine spawning season, size of spawning fish, number of eggs per fish and possible areas of spawning.

Persons finding a tagged fish are asked to return the tag to McIlwain at the Gulf Coast

Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs, Mississippi, or they may call collect (601)-875-2244, Extension 242, and report information including tag number, length of fish, weight, location of catch and date.

PRJC cheerleader tryouts Apr. 19

Pearl River Junior College in Poplarville will conduct cheerleader tryouts in the PRJC gymnasium at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 19. Four spots are available for freshmen.

The judges will evaluate the candidates according to rhythm, appearance, personality, and learning ability. Girls who will serve as sophomore cheerleaders will be on hand to teach the candidates a cheer and pom-pom routine.

In this way the candidates can exhibit their sense of rhythm and their ability to learn cheers.

Each candidate will be responsible for doing a cheer, one that will display his or her ability. Past cheerleading experience is helpful but not essential.

According to Ann Morris, cheerleader sponsor, cheerleaders from other universities will judge the tryouts.

RECORD VAULT—Bay High track team pole vaulter Allen Proulx recently recorded a 12-foot pole vault to shatter an 11-year-old record of 11 feet set in 1968. Proulx went over the bar at a height of 11-foot-eight, and moments later shattered his own record with the 12-foot vault. (Staff photo: Rich Adams)

Storey named to all-star team

RICHARD STOREY

By RICH ADAMS

Richard Storey, the six-foot-three, 230-pound tackle at Hancock North Central, has been named to the south squad for the 30th annual Mississippi High School All-Star Football game to be played July 28 in Jackson.

Storey is a senior who became the first Hancock North Central football star to sign with a major college, Mississippi State University, on Dec. 8, 1978.

Storey's South Rebels will be coached by Hugh Pepper, head coach of the Ocean Springs Greyhounds.

The North Yankees will be coached by Ronald Bennett of Clarksdale.

The North holds an overall 15-12-2 edge over the South team, winning the first contest in 1950.

Hancock North Central Head Coach Irvin Favre is pleased that Storey is on the all-star squad, and feels he will lose a "close friend" when Storey moves on to MSU in the fall.

"He is very dedicated... probably the most dedicated athlete I have ever coached. He missed very few practices," Favre said.

"He is the first HNC graduate to sign with a major college on a football grant. He was a four year letterman on the HNC squad," the coach continued.

"He was selected to play on the Burger King All-Stars, and also on the all-state team. He has outstanding credentials," Favre added.

"Storey is very down-to-earth and easily coachable...he is the type I hate to lose as both a football player and a close friend," Favre said.

"He was always close to the coaching staff, and I had a fine time coaching him through his junior and senior high school career," Favre added.

The game will take place at the Mississippi Memorial Stadium in Jackson.

Assistant coaches for the event for the South are Tommy Lucas of Taylorsville, Joe Edwards of Vicksburg St. Aloysius, and Buddy Singleton of d'Iberville.

Assisting in the coaching department for the North are Willis Wright of Slatton, Leland Young of Rosedale, and Ricky Black of Kosciusko.

Little League camp slated

The 12th annual Little League Summer Camp will be conducted in St. Petersburg, Florida the weeks of June 17, and July 1 and 15, according to the southern regional headquarters of the Little League Association.

At the camp in St. Petersburg, there are six baseball diamonds, outdoor recreational pavilion, batting cages and tunnels, pitching guides, and other facilities to improve baseball skills.

The camp is located on 14 acres in the heart of Major League spring training sites, and also the location where baseball teams conduct their spring practice.

Each day personal instruction is given to train young boys, ages 9-15, who like to play baseball, according to Arnold White Sr., southern regional director.

"Test scores show campers during the past 11 years have increased their playing skills from 15 to as much as 50 percent as a result of the instruction given here," White said.

Parents and young boys are invited to visit the facilities located at 658 58th Street South in St. Petersburg.

A complete resume of the daily camp schedule is available.

Full details of the camp may be obtained by writing Little League Baseball, P.O. Box 13366, St. Petersburg, Fla., 33733, or calling (813) 244-2661.

MIX OR MATCH FISH

One of the wonders of nature is that relatively few fish ever cross-mate to produce hybrids.

Hybrid fish do occasionally occur in the wild, however. A common cross is between green sunfish and bluegill. Usually these hybrids are more desirable fish since they grow faster and get bigger than either of the parent species.

Fish hybridization has long been an area of interest to biologists.

According to information from Mercury outdoors' fishing department, work with trout began in the late 1800's and has led to at least one notable hybrid, the splake.

A cross between brook trout and lake trout, the splake has the desirable characteristic of faster growth.

Also, splake are able to reproduce naturally in the wild, a rare occurrence among hybrid fish. Brook trout and lake trout do not crossbreed naturally, however.

In the wild, these two fish have vastly different spawning needs.

The two species never meet, and if they did, a cross is highly unlikely.

Another hybrid which is becoming more popular among anglers is the white bass/striped bass cross.

This fish, introduced into many southern reservoirs, grows rapidly to eight or 10 pounds, feeds voraciously and is easily caught by anglers.

It serves a dual purpose in many places as a sport fish for anglers and as a means of controlling shad populations which threaten to overcrowd many lakes.

K-HAY SAILS—Jimmy Larroux, his wife Toni, and Henry Cook III head toward open water in the Mississippi Sound Sunday as they joined the festivities of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. The local sailors celebrated the opening of sailing season with a parade of colorfully decorated yachts and a party at the yacht club afterwards. (Staff photo Edgar Perez)

Coast Guard offers boating tips

It is time for boaters to start preparing for the 1979 boating season, Rear Admiral Bernie Thompson, Chief of the U.S. Coast Guard's Boating Safety Office suggests.

Thompson, a 31-year veteran of the Coast Guard and a recreational boater since his youth, gave this advice recently when he was asked, "How can boaters enjoy a safe boating season?"

"Make preparations for the boating season now," Thompson said. "Examine your craft, your boating equipment and yourself. Start getting them all in shape."

Expanding on his answer, the admiral offered these additional safety hints to boaters.

Make needed repairs on your boat now before they become major problems during the boating season. Inspect your boat's fuel and electrical systems and ventilation ducts.

Examine your equipment. Be sure your boat has all of the safety equipment required by the Coast Guard. This includes personal flotation devices, fire extinguishers and flame arrestors on your boat's engine.

Examine yourself. Are you totally familiar with all aspects of small boat seamanship? Do you know what to do in an emergency?

Thompson suggests that it might be a good idea to take one of the boating courses offered by the Coast Guard Auxiliary, U.S. Power Squadrons, American Red Cross or a state boating authority.

Once the boating season begins, Thompson says it's a good idea to keep the following tips in mind:

-Know and obey the rules of the road.

-Carry a compass, particularly when boating on a large body of water.

-Be courteous to other boaters.

-Keep a good lookout for other boaters, swimmers, divers and approaching bad weather.

-Fuel vapors are explosive. When fueling, extinguish all galley fires, pilot lights and smokes. Keep the filling hose in contact with the tank to prevent sparks. Fill portable tanks out of the boat. Do not use gasoline stoves or heaters on board.

-Keep passengers in the cockpit area of your boat. Riding on the bow or gunwale leads to falls overboard.

-Make sure that children and non-swimmers always wear personal flotation devices.

-If you capsize and your boat continues to float, stay with it. It will support you while you are waiting for rescue, and it will be an easier target for rescuers to spot.

-Before departing on a boat trip, leave a float plan with someone ashore.

Thompson said the Coast Guard has "hundreds more" boating safety tips. He encouraged boaters to get in touch with the Boating Information Branch at (202) 426-2716 to find out about them or by writing: Commandant (G-BA-2-TP42), U.S. Coast Guard, Washington, D.C. 20500.

"For the past several years, recreational boating accidents and boating-related deaths have been on the decline," Thompson said. "The Coast Guard wants to see this trend continue."

Ag Affairs

RETROACTIVE
ESTATE TAX
By ED BLAKE
AG Affairs

by Ed Blake

The American tradition of handing down property from generation to generation is in jeopardy during this session of the Congress unless more rank and file citizens go to the trouble of learning what a little-known provision of the estate taxation law holds in store for them — and cause Congress to repeal a potentially fatal thorn in an heir's flesh.

Known as the "carryover basis rule" of estate taxation, this provision was scheduled to take effect in 1977 — but an alarm was sounded by farm, business and legal organizations which caused a temporary postponement to be ordered by Congress.

And now, if Congress doesn't act this year, 1979 repeal the rule, it will become law effective January 1, 1980.

Essentially, the provision creates retroactive estate taxation so the federal government collects on inflated and appreciated values going back to the point in time when the property was acquired by the deceased. As a result, an heir pays capital gains taxes on increases in value from the original date of acquisition to the time the property is sold by the heir.

Thus this "carryover basis rule" replaces the "stepped up basis rule" which takes the fair market value of property at the date of death as the basic value of inherited property.

Not only does this mean paying more taxes on inherited property, in addition to state and federal estate taxes, but it requires heirs to establish the original cost, capital improvements, and other adjustments on every piece of inherited property subject to capital gains taxes. This may include land, homes, stamp collections, etc., and has drawn harsh criticism from attorneys and accountants who appropriately have referred to it as a nightmare.

Landowners and business people not only see the provision as a threat to passing property from generation to generation, but also as a significant disincentive for sound property management. The federal government would reap additional tax revenues at heirs' expense. It would create a financial handicap for heirs, forcing many needing to raise money to pay estate taxes or to buy farm or expensive farm equipment to have to sell off a greater portion of their inherited or traditional property in order to keep afloat financially.

Despite threats of a presidential veto, two bills have been introduced in Congress already this year to repeal the carryover basis rule and return the tax law to its previous status — H.R. 12 by Rep. Barber Conable (R-N.Y.) and S. 112 by Sen. Robert Dole (R-Kan.).

The time is at hand for Americans to do their homework in regard to this obligation bequest from the pockets of millions of small landowners directly into the federal till.

Communications are needed desperately from the crossroads of America before another big erosion of personal liberty goes down the drain.

Library patrons charmed with paintings, piano

By JOE PILET

Call for an encore and standing ovation expressed the appreciation of patrons of the City County Public Library who gathered Sunday to hear selections from Chopin by pianist Colby Fabian and to view an impressive collection of paintings by artist Nell Ducomb. Frederic Chopin (1810-1849) wrote in his short life more than 200 compositions for solo piano and his chamber music selections were carefully chosen by Fabian to reflect the wide range of Chopin's romantic and soulful melodies.

Fabian's rendition of Etude in C-sharp minor published in 1833 and dedicated to Franz Liszt received exceptional applause of appreciation. And

Charismatics hold seminar

A 'Life In The Spirit' seminar was conducted by Brother Cyril, C.F.C., of the Center of Jesus the Lord, in New Orleans, at the St. Augustine Seminary, Bay St. Louis, March 17, and 18.

The seminar was hosted by the Charismatic Prayer Group which meets weekly on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the seminary dining room.

Sponsored by the Charismatic Renewal Services of the Diocese of Biloxi, some 25 members from groups in Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Pass Christian and Long Beach attended.

The sessions closed each day with celebration of the Eucharist.

Rev. William Kelly, S.V.D. and Rev. Albert Guerino S.C. of Bay St. Louis were celebrants.

Mississippi free of suspect vaccine

A vaccine associated with the recent death of four Tennessee infants is not being administered in Mississippi, according to State Board of Health officials in Jackson.

According to Dr. Durward Blakey, chief of the Board of Health's Bureau of Disease Control, the DPT vaccine which is used to protect against diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus is not being used in the state.

"There is absolutely no need for the public to be concerned," Blakey said. "The vaccine in question is not being used by private physicians or health department officials anywhere in Mississippi."

R for your child's safety

A snake, unseen, is lurking somewhere in the tall grass. Suddenly, it attacks. Who is the unfortunate victim? It could be your child.

"The problem is that ordinary parents, unfamiliar with emergency snake-bite procedures, may not know the first thing to do or how to react," says Dr. Albert H. Domm, child safety specialist and former medical director of the Prudential Insurance Company.

"The most important thing to remember is to keep the victim quiet and lying down," Dr. Domm said. "The worst thing you can do is panic," he said. "Excited activity accelerates the flow of blood through the arteries, carrying the venom to the heart," he warned.

"Do not rush off to the hospital. Call the emergency ambulance and let help come to you," he advised.

RETROACTIVE
By ED BLAKE
AG Affairs

The American tradition of handing down property from generation to generation is in jeopardy during this session of the Congress unless more rank and file citizens go to the trouble of learning what a little-known provision of the estate taxation law holds in store for them — and cause Congress to repeal a potentially fatal thorn in an heir's flesh.

Known as the "carryover basis rule" of estate taxation, this provision was scheduled to take effect in 1977 — but an alarm was sounded by farm, business and legal organizations which caused a temporary postponement to be ordered by Congress.

And now, if Congress doesn't act this year, 1979 repeal the rule, it will become law effective January 1, 1980.

Essentially, the provision creates retroactive estate taxation so the federal government collects on inflated and appreciated values going back to the point in time when the property was acquired by the deceased. As a result, an heir pays capital gains taxes on increases in value from the original date of acquisition to the time the property is sold by the heir.

Thus this "carryover basis rule" replaces the "stepped up basis rule" which takes the fair market value of property at the date of death as the basic value of inherited property.

Not only does this mean paying more taxes on inherited property, in addition to state and federal estate taxes, but it requires heirs to establish the original cost, capital improvements, and other adjustments on every piece of inherited property subject to capital gains taxes. This may include land, homes, stamp collections, etc., and has drawn harsh criticism from attorneys and accountants who appropriately have referred to it as a nightmare.

Landowners and business people not only see the provision as a threat to passing property from generation to generation, but also as a significant disincentive for sound property management. The federal government would reap additional tax revenues at heirs' expense. It would create a financial handicap for heirs, forcing many needing to raise money to pay estate taxes or to buy farm or expensive farm equipment to have to sell off a greater portion of their inherited or traditional property in order to keep afloat financially.

Despite threats of a presidential veto, two bills have been introduced in Congress already this year to repeal the carryover basis rule and return the tax law to its previous status — H.R. 13 by Rep. Barber Conable (R-N.Y.) and S. 112 by Sen. Robert Dole (R-Kan.).

The time is at hand for Americans to do their homework in regard to this obligation bequest from the pockets of millions of small landowners directly into the federal till.

Communications are needed desperately from the crossroads of America before another big erosion of personal liberty goes down the drain.

Library patrons charmed with paintings, piano

By JOE PILET

Call for an encore and standing ovation expressed the appreciation of patrons of the City County Public Library who gathered Sunday to hear selections from Chopin by pianist Colby Fabian and to view an impressive collection of paintings by artist Nell Ducomb. Frederic Chopin (1810-1849) wrote in his short life more than 200 compositions for solo piano and his chamber music selections were carefully chosen by Fabian to reflect the wide range of Chopin's romantic and soulful melodies.

Fabian's rendition of Etude in C-sharp minor published in 1833 and dedicated to Franz Liszt received exceptional applause of appreciation. And

Charismatics hold seminar

A 'Life In The Spirit' seminar was conducted by Brother Cyril, C.F.C., of the Center of Jesus the Lord, in New Orleans, at the St. Augustine Seminary, Bay St. Louis, March 17, and 18.

The seminar was hosted by the Charismatic Prayer Group which meets weekly on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the seminary dining room.

Sponsored by the Charismatic Renewal Services of the Diocese of Biloxi, some 25 members from groups in Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Pass Christian and Long Beach attended.

The sessions closed each day with celebration of the Eucharist.

Rev. William Kelly, S.V.D. and Rev. Albert Guerino S.C. of Bay St. Louis were celebrants.

Mississippi free of suspect vaccine

A vaccine associated with the recent death of four Tennessee infants is not being administered in Mississippi, according to State Board of Health officials in Jackson. According to Dr. Durward Blakey, chief of the Board of Health's Bureau of Disease Control, the DPT vaccine which is used to protect against diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus is not being used in the state.

"There is absolutely no need for the public to be concerned," Blakey said. "The vaccine in question is not being used by private physicians or health department officials anywhere in Mississippi."

R for your child's safety

A snake, unseen, is lurking somewhere in the tall grass. Suddenly, it attacks. Who is the unfortunate victim? It could be your child. The problem is that ordinary parents, unfamiliar with emergency snake-bite procedures, may not know the first thing to do or how to react," says Dr. Albert H. Domm, child safety specialist and former medical director of the Prudential Insurance Company.

"The most important thing to remember is to keep the victim quiet and lying down," Dr. Domm said. "The worst thing you can do is panic," he said. "Excited activity accelerates the flow of blood through the arteries, carrying the venom to the heart," he warned. "Do not rush off to the hospital. Call the emergency ambulance and let help come to you," he advised.
